DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-73 are pending and are subject to a restriction requirement.
2. In view of Applicant arguments, the finality of the restriction is withdrawn and a new restriction follows.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-15 and 32-46, drawn to a , method and product in a primary data processing system, classified in class 705 subclass 27.
  - II. Claims 16-31, drawn to a system for processing commercial transactions, classified in class 705, subclass 16.
  - III. Claims 47-61, drawn to a computer program product, classified in class 709, subclass 200.
  - IV. Claims 62-73, drawn to a system, classified in class 708, subclass 100.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

4. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process and apparatus are not patentably distinct.

Art Unit: 3627

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, because these inventions have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, and because the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination (11) as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because combination does not require secondary instructions for allocating inventory associated with the catalog. The subcombination has separate utility such as a program product for dispensing or sending catalogs.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, because these inventions have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and divergent subject matter, and because the search required for Group II is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Inventions II and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as being used in inventory allocation. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

divergent subject matter, and because the search required for Group II is not required for Group IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because this restriction is 4 ways, this application is deemed complex. Therefore, a telephone call was not made. See MPEP j812.01.

8. Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 C.F.R. § 1.143).

9. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.481) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

10. Regarding the groups of inventions that are not considered patentably distinct at this time, should Applicants amend this application (in any future amendment) so that the groups of inventions become patentably distinct, the non-elected groups will be reassessed and possibly withdrawn from consideration,

Art Unit: 3627

11. Moreover, if Applicants believe that particular groups of inventions are not patentably distinct, Applicants should point this out in their next response. If the Examiner concurs, the Examiner may withdraw or regroup the inventions at that time.

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ronald Laneau whose telephone number is (703) 305-3973. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri from 8:30am - 6:00pm.
